Subscribe on Honor Days for Liberty Loan

This is Covina's Victory loan honor week. You have this week to go to the banks or to Victory loan headquarters Friday and Saturday and voluntarily pay off your obligation that you owe your government.

This is the fifth and last loan. While we expected it would take all of 1919 to do the business, yet our money and our soldiers and sailors did the business up in 1918, and in place of drives all through this year, we are up to the last big loan. Are you coming through and finish it up in shape, as you have done in the previous loans? Will you put us over the top, and do it voluntarily? This is your patriotic duty, and we hope every man and woman in this district will come in this week and make it possible for us to announce Saturday night that we are over the top. It does not seem right that our local workers, who are all very busy, should be compelled to go from house to house and ask you people to fulfill an obligation that one year ago today you would have deemed a privilege to meet in order to stop the Hun.

Covina's quota in this loan is $100,450, and at Tuesday evening's "tank" meeting subscriptions to the amount of $20,000 were subscribed, only one-eighth of our total quota. Our committee has given you this opportunity to come in and do your share voluntarily. We don't wish to pry into your private affairs and check you up to see if you are subscribing what you should, in proportion to the income that you receive, but at the same time, without you do come in voluntarily, our committee would be remiss in its duty in allowing this committee to default in its obligation by failure in coming up to its quota.

Come in this week and meet this obligation as you would any note coming due at your bank on a certain date, or as you would for your taxes. This is serious business, and without you subscribe nearly as much as you did in the fourth loan we have got to scatter broadcast over the United States that Covina fell down on its last war obligation. This is an honorable obligation on every man and woman in this community. Meet it now.

Covina Victory Loan Committee,
C. E. Crawford, Sec'y.

Madam Ellen Bouch Yaw and Miss Frances Havlin entertained the guests with music, and refreshments were served, the Misses Frances Havlin, Enogene Arthur, Frances Dulin and Lorraine Bainbridge assisting in the serving. Later in the evening the guests enjoyed dancing. Mrs. Thorpe received from her husband to mark the happy occasion gifts of a diamond ring and furs.

Valencia Park Sold to Pomona Buyer

John W. Wright of Pomona added to his already large citrus interests in Covina by the purchase this week of Valencia Park, at the corner of Rowland avenue and Lark Ellen, the property of Messrs. Damorel and Bright, one of the finest Valencia orange groves in the Covina valley. The price paid for this twenty acres is $20,000.

Valencia Park is the grove formerly owned by the late Benjamin Reynolds, who planted and developed the property. Mr. Reynolds during his lifetime was recognized as one of the best authorities on citrus culture in the San Gabriel valley, and his properties from the standpoint of productiveness were the banner places in the district.

Two years ago Valencia Park was acquired by the Bright-Damorel interests, who have given the place excellent care. At the present market price of fruit there is possibly from fifteen to twenty thousand dollars' worth of fruit on the grove.

Electric Car Collides With Orange Wagon

Nels Mortenson, an orchardist in the employ of B. L. King, escaped death on Monday morning when the wagon which he was driving was struck at the Hollenbeck crossing by the Pacific Electric passenger car leaving Covina for Los Angeles shortly before 10:30. The car struck the rear wheel of the wagon, completely demolishing the wagon and rack. Mortenson, who was thrown clear of the car, was entangled in the driving lines and was dragged by the team for nearly 150 yards before it was caught by J. H. Deval, a rancher living near the scene of the accident. He fortunately escaped without any serious injuries and was able to walk to his home.

Eighty Boxes Oranges Stolen from Snodgrass

The sheriff's office and local police officers have issued a warning that orange thieves are operating in the Covina valley.

It was reported that a party of thieves had been reported from the Claremont growers during the past week. Growers should see to it that all picked fruit is in the packing house before dark.

He received a slight shrapnel wound from an exploding shell in the latter fight.

A big birthday cake was one of the features of the evening.

COVINA TO HAVE COMMUNITY SING, FRIDAY, MAY SECOND

Arrangements have been made to have a community sing at the high school auditorium, Friday evening, May 2, and everyone is invited to attend and join the singing. Mr. Ouge Christopher, one of Los Angeles' leading musicians, and who has been song leader for the Y. M. C. A. at several of the army camps, has been secured to conduct the singing. Dr. C. F. Fingele, who is fathering the idea, is enthusiastic about it. Everybody is asked to bring a book with old songs in it, or they may obtain one at the door.

DEATHS OCCUR IN TWO MEXICAN FAMILIES OF VALLEY

M. Adams, age 18, of Baldwin Park, died at his home of pneumonia on the 18th of the month. Funeral services were held for him last Saturday and interment was in the Oakdale cemetery.

The death occurred of Mrs. Inez Mangos of Puente at the county hospital. Mrs. Mangos was 70 years of age. Funeral services were held in San Gabriel Thursday. W. Q. Custer had charge of both funerals.

COVINA'S RETURNED SOLDIERS AND SAILORS ROYALLY ENTERTAINED

The "welcome home" dinner and entertainment tendered the returned soldiers and sailors of Covina by the ladies of the community on Tuesday evening was a genuine outpouring of the happiness of the mothers, wives and sweethearts at the safe return of the young men who had responded to the call of their country in the time of national peril.

The banquet tables were laid in the auditorium of the Woman's club-house, which had been beautifully decorated with blossoms for the occasion, the color scheme being in red, white and blue. The tables were laid for two hundred guests. The menu included viands that delight the palate of an American boy, and was served by thirty pretty Covina girls, dressed in white, with their hair adorned with chic French caps.

At the close of the banquet, Mrs. C. W. Coman, whose activity in the welfare of the soldiers and sailors has made her beloved of all the enlisted men of Covina, introduced the mayor, R. A. Welch, who welcomed, on behalf of the city, the boys home from the camps and across the seas.

An adjournment was then taken to the auditorium of the high school, where a large reception committee and the general public was awaiting to greet the young men. Following the reception a program arranged by Mrs. C. A. Leighton and Miss Bertha McKay was given. This portion of the evening's program included a piano solo by Mr. Robert Broadwell, reading by Miss Katherine Lipke, Egyptian dance by Miss Dorothy Bryan, vocal solos by Miss Dorothy Dukes, whistling and dancing by Miss Ada Ayers, violin and clarinet duet by the Misses Dorothy and Lucile King. All the numbers were bright and snappy.

While the entertainment was being held in the high school auditorium, the club-house floor was cleared of the dinner tables and the boys on their return round the banquet room converted into a ballroom, and the festivities of the occasion were continued by those who enjoy the dance until the midnight hour.

Credit is due Mrs. C. A. Leighton, chairman of the committee of arrangements, and Mrs. Ida Ames as chairman of the reception committee, and the hosts of ladies who assisted them to the complete success of this occasion.

WALNUT GROWERS MEET IN ALL-DAY ANNUAL SESSION

A large gathering of walnut growers was in attendance on Tuesday at the all-day annual meeting of the Puente Valley Walnut Growers Association, held at the West Covina club-house. It was a meeting full of pleasant surprises.

The first order of business at the morning session was the presentation to the stockholders of checks amounting to $21,000, representing their final payment on pool No. 1, for the past season's crop. This handsome sum was the distribution of the savings made through the present co-operative methods of selling as practiced by the California Walnut Growers Association.

A session was held in the morning and afternoon, with a cafeteria lunch served by the wives of the growers. At both sessions President S. L. Watts presided.

The annual election of the board of directors, held at the afternoon session, resulted in the re-election of the old board: S. L. Watts, president; B. E. Maxson, vice-president and manager; S. H. Robinson, E. E. Van Wig, B. E. Rowland, C. J. Hurst, E. G. Hotchkiss, with Robert Neely as secretary.

One of the most important actions of the meeting, was a vote of the stockholders authorizing the directors to incur the necessary expense in doubling the size of the association's plant in Puente for the handling of this year's crop, which from present indications will be a bumper one. Barring loss from heat waves, the association's output this year will probably exceed two thousand tons.

The speaker at the morning session was Dr. L. D. Batchelor of the state experimental station at Riverside, who for many years has made a study of the

BUNGALOW OF WOOD MAKES GOOD HOME

Five-Room Structure Can Be Built at Small Cost.

SUN PARLOR IS BIG FEATURE

Opens Off Both Living and Dining Rooms, Adding to Comfort and Convenience of the Interior.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 127 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose three-cent stamp for reply.

Every substantial American citizen, man and woman, who is the head of a family wants a home—not merely a place in which to eat and sleep, but a real home. Homes are made by those who live in them, and when the house is owned by the tenants it is noticeable that a great deal more attention is paid to the interior comforts and the exterior appearance than when it is rented.

To own a home is an ambition that is going to be realized by many thousands of Americans this year. Already, government reports show, home buildcomfort and convenience of these two rooms.

A study of the floor plan will reveal that this bungalow has some excellent features in the arrangement of the rooms. The living room is of good size, 11 feet 6 inches, by 13 feet 3 inches. The arrangement of the windows, two in front and one at the side make it a light, pleasant room. Entrance to the sun parlor is gained through a doorway at the end, while there is a colonnade between it and the dining room.

The latter is of the exact size of the living room, which, because of the colonnade opening, makes the two rooms practically one.

The kitchen is practically square, being 9 feet 6 inches, by 9 feet. Off it is a good-sized pantry on one side and the stairs to the basement on the other.

The two bedrooms are each 9 feet 6 inches, by 11 feet 3 inches. Both have closets and two large windows.

From this brief description there may be gained some idea of the comfort and convenience this home will bring to the owner. The housekeeper's daily work is all confined to the one floor, while the greatest portion of that work is done on one side of the house.

Heated at Small Cost.

There is one advantage in a home such as this that will appeal to every thrifty person. It will cost little to heat it. The heating plant, of course, will be located in the basement, which extends under the whole of the house. This, too, can be subdivided so as to provide the necessary places to store food, fuel and whatever is not in daily use.

With the exception of the front porch and the foundation the bungalow is constructed of wood. The brick ing is gaining headway, while other building is lagging, notwithstanding the campaign the federal officials are waging to bring about a resumption of building of all kinds.

The average American family builds but once in a lifetime. The house that is erected serves as the place where the children are reared until they depart to establish a home of their own. Building a home, therefore, is a matter that requires, deserves and usually gets a great deal of consideration before the type of house and its interior arrangement finally are selected. Many considerations, of course, influence the prospective home owner in selecting the plans for his home. To some it is a question of getting what is wanted irrespective of the cost; to others the in the porch gives the house a distinctive touch, while the siding that extends to the ground also takes it out of the ordinary appearing class of homes.

This design may be elaborated if the home builder so desires. Stucco over any of the materials to which it will adhere may be employed instead of the boards.

Taken as a whole, the bungalow will fill the needs of the average family. The installation of a bed that is concealed behind doors in the living room will add to the sleeping accommodations, while a ceiling bed in the sun parlor will transform it at night into a sleeping porch.

Being the owner of such a home as this will give the man of limited cost is the first consideration. As there are a great many more of the latter than of the former, the bungalow shown in the accompanying illustration has been selected as a suggestion for the home builders of 1919.

Frittle Add to Cost.

The house, like a woman's dress, costs in proportion to the frills there are on it. Every angle there is in the framework means a duplication of the work of constructing the corners. The bungalow has only four corners, although there is nothing plain about its exterior appearance. The building is 26 feet wide and 34 feet long. But to this has been added the sun parlor, 12 by 7 feet, and the hip roof, which take away the plainness and make it an attractive home.

Five rooms and bath and the sun parlor comprise the space in this bungalow. Living room, dining room and kitchen are ranged along one side and two bedrooms with the bath between them are on the other side.

A notable feature of the interior arrangement is the placing of the sun parlor so that it is off both the living and dining rooms, adding to both the

Beebe will lead the new party, and his associate for several years, John Tee Van, will accompany him. Others in the party will include Miss Mabel Satterlee, grand-daughter of the late J. P. PLAY WITHIN PLAY REVEALS SECRETS OF THE FILM STUDIOS

CECIL B. DeMILLE'S "We Can't Have Everything"
An AETCRAFT Picture

How it is done in some picture studios is shown in "We Can't Have Everything" at the Star theater tonight and tomorrow. This is a special Cecil B. DeMille production for Artercraft and is based upon Rupert Hughes' novel of the same name. The scenario is by his brother, Wm. C. DeMille.

The incidents which show the inner workings of a film studio occur when a photoplay within a photoplay is enacted. The part of Kedzie, a film star, is interpreted by Wanda Hawley, and the scenes of the "movie" in the making are located in a "harem," with the accompaniment of beautiful girls, gorgeous costumes, etc.

The story of the picture itself is concerned with the rapid life of the metropolis today and the part of a society woman of blue-blood is interpreted by Kathryn Williams. Included in the cast are Sylvia Breamer, Elliott Dexter, Thurston Hall, Theodore Roberts, Tully Marshall, and other notable players.

The picture is a reflection of contemporary life and is so deftly handled that it is thoroughly convincing. A scene in the Biltmore roof garden is most effective.

High School Items

Monday morning, everyone, refreshed by the short spring vacation, came back to school prepared to put the best of work into the last quarter.

Monday afternoon the Covina boys' tennis team defeated Monrovia 10 to 7. Tuesday afternoon the Covina girls' tennis team defeated Monrovia 17 to 0.

Also Tuesday afternoon the first leg baseball game was won from Monrovia, with the score 14 to 7. This is a good way to start the season and is the way we hope, of course, to finish it. The next league game is this afternoon with Franklin high school on our own grounds.

Tuesday Miss Margaret Salinas, Los Angeles vocalist, presented the following splendid program: "Oh, Had I Jubal's Lyre" (Handel); "The Lass With a Delicate Air" (Arno); "Gli Angeli d'Inferno" (Mozart); "Romance" (Debussy); "Hymn to Sun" (Korakoff); "Snow" (Sigurd Lie); "La Capinera" (Benedict); "Solveig Lied" (Grieg); "Dawn" (Aurran). She pleasantly responded to an encore, giving "The Americans Came."

Wednesday and Thursday, after school, the pictures of the athletic teams, classes, and music department were taken for the Cardinal. This afternoon the cadet companies will be photographed.

A week ago Friday Captain Brunton of the 91st division spoke before the student-body on his experiences in the war. When he enlisted in the fall of 1917 he was sent to Camp Lewis, and in January, 1918, his regiment was sent across the continent to New York. On the way they made several short stops for exercise and drill. Everywhere the people went wild with enthusiasm and cheering with two exceptions, Bismarck, North Dakota, and Minneapolis, Minnesota. In neither of these cities was a single cheer raised nor a hat taken off when the boys marched by with the flag. The boys were so enraged at this German spirit that it was very difficult to keep them from breaking away and demolishing some landscape. The men sailed from New York on the Olympic, landing at Southampton, England, after an uneventful voyage. From Southampton they sailed by channel steamers to Cherbourg, France. On Sept. 20, 1918, they were ordered to join the 91st division at the Argonne forest. There they remained through the severest fighting until October 16th, when they were relieved. October 17th they joined the forces under King Albert of Belgium at Ypres, and there they fought until the armistice was signed.

There are only ten more weeks, but within that time the junior-senior play will be given and the Cardinal must be published. They are the last weeks, but not the least, by any means. Those taking part in the play are now learning their parts, and soon they will be rehearsing. A meeting of the cast was held Monday afternoon and the play was read over for the first time. Both the junior and senior classes are delighted with the play and are also especially pleased with the fine taste and skill with which the players were chosen to act out fitting characters. We hope and feel sure that this play will be as great a success if not greater than the operetta.

Boy Scouts Capture German Helmets

The Covina patrol of Boy Scouts sold $10,500 worth of bonds at the big tank meeting Tuesday evening. They were given the word to go ahead when matters seemed to be going a little slow, and two prizes of German helmets were offered to the boys that sold the most bonds. Eugene Ames, with $5,750 to his credit, won the first prize, and Noel Rust, who came in with $2,400, carried off the second.

The Boy Scouts, who occupy the position of "Gleaners after the Reapers," are not to do any more soliciting until after Saturday, May 3rd, but the committee has announced that anyone who may be going away and wants to subscribe through the boys may leave their subscription at either bank and it will be credited to the Boy Scouts.

The boys have received a reply to their request for one of the captured cannon from Brigadier General N. S. Pierce of the ordnance department. The reply states that no captured ordnance has yet been received by the department except a small amount now in the hands of the Victory loan committee for exhibition purposes, and that the ordnance department cannot issue instructions regarding the disposal of these things until action is taken by congress on the matter.

BEAUTIFUL SUNRISE SERVICES AT SUMMIT OF TURNBULL

One hundred and fifty persons, including a number from Covina, participated Sunday morning in the sunrise Easter service at the summit of Turnbull canyon road.

Under the direction of Rev. Mr. Burgess, pastor of the Puente Community church, the services began at 6:30 a.m. with the singing of the hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." As the sun rose higher, the address of the day, by Rev. A. Watson Brown, pastor of the Covina Baptist church, was delivered. Others taking part in the service were Miss Margaret Tindall, Mr. Charles Spencer, and Mr. Morrill. The cross was decorated with garlands of flowers. This cross was erected a year ago, when the first services were held at the summit of the hill road.

Why Not Share Profits

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EDISON COMPANY

A conservative and logical plan of profit-sharing has been inaugurated by the Southern California Edison Company in inviting consumers and the public in Southern California to become its partners by the purchase of Common Capital Stock at a low price.

This STOCK IS OFFERED AT THE PRICE of $80 per share cash, or $90 per share on the partial-payment plan of $5 per share per month.

DIVIDENDS at 7% per annum are now paid in four quarterly installments, yielding over 7 3/4% on the investment.

THIS SAFE FORM OF INVESTMENT IS RECOMMENDED BECAUSE:

The COMPANY IS A LOCAL CONCERN operated by local people and has been serving Southern California for the last twenty years.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA HAS ONLY BEGUN ITS GROWTH in population and industry, and the business of this Company will grow with the community.

The stock IS SOLD WITH THE APPROVAL OF THE CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMMISSION, which regulates both earnings and finances of the Company.

Stock has a RECOGNIZED MARKET VALUE in Los Angeles and New York.

Within the last ten years EARNINGS HAVE MORE THAN TREBLED.

Due to the large percentage of power generated by water, OPERATING EXPENSES ARE NOT SUBJECT TO INCREASES thru the high cost of material.

Back of this investment stands one of the GREATEST ELECTRICAL POWER DEVELOPMENT and distributing systems in the world. This property supplies 10 counties, 233 cities and towns. It serves an area of 55,000 square miles, and a population of 1,000,000 people. In Los Angeles the Company distributes the Municipal Aqueduct power under contract with the city.

The TOTAL POWER INSTALLED is over 300,000 horsepower, and the Company owns water rights permitting of more than doubling this capacity at low cost.

OPPORTUNITIES OF THIS NATURE COME BUT SELDOM AND THIS IS WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL. IT IS THE LAST WORD IN CO-OPERATION BETWEEN ANY COMPANY AND THE PUBLIC.

LET YOUR DIVIDENDS PAY YOUR LIGHT BILLS.

Covina's Boom

For the second time in the history of Covina this district has been caught up on the crest of a wave of prosperity and is being carried on to an ultimate and permanent success.

Both in California and in the east a series of booms and depressions have signalized the progress of all localities that have ever amounted to anything.

In our experience, we have noted many places that have boomed for the first time and gone dead, to remain inactive and unprogressive for a term of years, and then to be brought to life by an unexpected burst of prosperity which has invariably proven to be lasting.

In common with other places which have eventually taken their place in the sun, Covina is now going through the resuscitating process of a second boom. Evidence of this are being manifested in many ways. Notwithstanding the many calls upon their financial resources, to which they have responded willingly and generously, the ranchers, business men and citizens of all classes have proven their faith in the bright future of Covina by housing every movement inaugurated for the good of the community. The latest evidence of this public spirit was given when the school bonds were carried by an overwhelming majority. This alone means work and business for some time to come. In addition to the erection of new school buildings, a number of private individuals are making plans for new buildings. Following the school election the stockholders of the Covina Citrus Association authorized the erection of a new packing house and processing plant at a cost of $140,000, making in all building estimates for the coming summer of $300,000, with more in sight.

The population of Covina has outgrown its housing capacity and it is almost impossible for many who need homes to find a house to rent. Many who intend to settle permanently have been forced to buy in order to secure the comforts of home. The scarcity of houses is felt in the increasing difficulty of even securing rooms. There is only one remedy for this condition of affairs, and that is to build more and better homes.

The overcrowding of Los Angeles and adjacent cities is driving the people further afield, and we must put ourselves in a position to take care of our share of this increasing population.

A pleasing feature of this flood of prosperity is the spirit of thrift which is manifested by all classes, as a result of which our banks are filled with money for safe and sane improvements.

Distinguished Tenor in Concert at Church

The First Methodist church is providing a rare treat for Covina music lovers in bringing the distinguished New York tenor, Mr. Leon Rice, to our city, for three evenings. Next Sunday night he will render several numbers in a sacred program, and Monday and Tuesday nights he will give a full evening's program assisted by Miss Amanda Caesar, violinist, and Jennie Rice, pianist. By a special arrangement the

MR. LEON RICE, New York Tenor. church is able to invite the whole community to hear Mr. Rice and contribute what they please for the privilege, instead of paying $1.00 per seat as at his regular concert engagements.

This young artist has appeared in almost every city of importance in the United States and Canada and has met with the highest praise.

For several years he was soloist with the great Trinity choir of New York, one of the highest salaried church positions in America, and recently he declined $100.00 per week as permanent soloist in another of the great churches, preferring to take his message to the wider audience afforded by concert travel.

Mr. Rice is visiting in Los Angeles before commencing a concert tour of Pacific coast cities.

No admission will be charged. An offering will be taken to assist in defraying expenses.—Adv.

ABOUT EYESIGHT

Few people neglect an ache or a pain, but many overlook eye troubles, for defects of vision can usually only be found by a skilled optometrist. While an ordinary headache may be but a passing indisposition, all too frequently eyestrain, headache and nervousness are forerunners of serious eye trouble.

Covina Man's Division Inspected by Pershing

Sergeant Oscar A. Lindahl, company A, 59th infantry, now with the American army of occupation, writes his wife, formerly Miss Vernie Houser, that his division was recently inspected by General Pershing. He states that they will not sail for home until some time in the fall.

Ernst, Germany.

March 16, 1919.

Another Sunday is almost gone, and this day has gone real fast because I have been busy the biggest part of the time. I've been trying to clean up my clothes, and it's a job, believe me. We have only one uniform—dress and every day the same, and besides getting my own cleaned, I have to see that all the men in my platoon clean their clothes too.

Next Tuesday, General Pershing is coming to give us the "once over," and that is why everybody wants to look their best. General Pershing inspected us once before, shortly after we arrived in France. At that time he said the fourth division was nothing but a mob, but after we came out of our first battle, the general changed his mind and said that the fourth division were fighters, and one of the best fighting divisions in the A. E. F. He surely gave us a steady job from that day until it was all over. I wonder what he will have to say this time! If he will say, "Go home, boys," that will suit me fine, but nothing else will do.

March 23.

Well, General Pershing gave us a pretty fine compliment. He did not call us a mob this time, but a "splendid division" instead. Got up at 4:30, and left here at 6 o'clock. We walked thirteen miles to the parade ground, arrived there about 10:30, and we did not leave the parade ground before 6 o'clock that evening. It was a bad day, too, for it snowed nearly all forenoon, and it was quite cold standing around for six or seven hours.

It was nearly three o'clock before General Pershing got there, then he inspected the whole division. After that the division passed in review, and then the general made us a speech. The whole time he was talking my heart was up in my mouth, waiting for him to say we would be going home soon—but no such luck, although he did say that we would all be home at no too distant date. We got home at 9:30 that night, had supper and went to bed. The next day we had to ourselves, doing nothing.

No, I am not doing K. P. or guard duty. I have not been a K. P. since I came over, and I have done but little guard duty; none since I was made sergeant. There is one sergeant that goes on guard each time with the company, but the fourth platoon sergeants have not needed to go on guard since we stopped fighting.

I am feeling fine, get all the chow I want to eat, plenty of sleep, Uncle Sam issues tobacco and candy twice a week—but gosh! how lonesome it is just the same. I think we will sail for home some "fifty-eight fall, not much sooner. That's a long time, but the best we can hope for. We have not seen all the scenery of Europe yet, so we will have to stay a little longer. We have made the cooties go over the top into no-man's land, and that is worth a lot.

SGT. OSCAR A. LINDAHL,
Co. A, 59th Infantry.

BIBLE STUDY QUESTIONS.

The Epistle of James is the study for the week. It is a most interesting book. The study class has resumed its sessions and will meet next week Wednesday evening at 7:15 in the Baptist church. It is open to all.

Friday: "Temptation" is the first subject James takes up. He uses the term in two senses—moral and physical. In 1:2-4 find answers to the following: How should we feel toward trials? What does a proper attitude toward develop in us? Read 1:12-16. Where is the real source of temptation? Find in 5:7-11 the quality we should cultivate to overcome temptation.

Saturday: "Wisdom" is the next subject James takes up. From 1:5-8 discover where we can find it and how we are to ask for it. Read 1:17-18. In 2:13-18 discover the two kinds of wisdom and the characteristics of each.

Sunday: "Social Justice" is not merely a modern theme. Learn today what James thought about it. In 1:9-11 what characteristic of material wealth is brought out? What effect should this have on our plans in life? 4:13-17. Is the criticism of 2:1-13 applicable today? What is the royal law? Read 5:1-6. What is it that cries out against the rich? Does social justice have anything to do with religion?

Monday: "Doing instead of Talking" is a favorite theme of James. Read 1:19-27. The heart of this passage is in the 22nd verse. Verses 23-24 reveal what is called a modern theory of psychology, viz. that we learn by doing. Do you think this should be applied in our religious instruction more than it is?

Tuesday: "The right use of the Tongue" is another practical subject. Read what James says about it in 3:1-12. Think for a little of all the harm done by talking, by gossiping, faultfinding and thoughtless words. Are those words against the tongue too strong? Read 4:11-12 and 5:12. What two kinds of wrong speech do these verses warn against? Does your tongue do as little harm and as much good as it ought?

Wednesday: "Faith and Works" is another favorite subject of James. Read 2:14-26 and see what he says about it. What is it that really shows our faith? What is the condition of faith without works? Compare this with 5:13-18. Does James discount faith?

Thursday: Read 4:1-10. What is the source of the world's troubles? Study again 4:8. How can we purify our hearts? Does the first part of the verse give us the method? If our heart is right, will speech and conduct be right? Read the grand climax of the epistle in 5:19-20.

HALF MILLION DOLLARS EDISON STOCK SALES

The half million, par value, mark was passed on Wednesday in the subscriptions to Edison common stock, since the subscriptions were reopened to the public by the Southern California Edison Company, about the first of the month.

Comptroller A. E. Kemp, in making the announcement this morning said, "The alacrity with which the public is taking this stock is naturally very gratifying, as it shows the confidence our people have in the company. Each hundred dollars of local money subscribed enables us to bring three hundred dollars of eastern money here, because bonds are sold to our eastern bankers for 75 per cent of construction as against 25 per cent coming from our stockholders. One hundred dollars subscribed, therefore, means four hundred dollars of money to be invested in the development of our hydro-electric plants and lines and the power product of these plants goes directly to developing farming land and supplying power for factories. At our present selling price, the stocks bear about seven and three-fourths per cent, which is an attractive rate of return on high class securities, based on assured earning power. The installment plan of investment is also meeting with favor."

PREPARE FOR THE ANNUAL ANT NUISANCE

Annually, after the heavy rains are over and the warm weather has set in, the most aggravating of pests, the ant, comes ready to torment and even overrun the household if proper precaution is not immediately taken. There was a time when it was impossible to rid the house of store of the ant nuisance. Now, however, its extermination is an easy matter. The remedy lies in the use of Kellogg's Ant Paste, which was discovered by a baker nearly seventeen years ago. This paste seems to have a supernatural effect over the ant. It not only drives them out of the house or store at once, but seems to keep them out indefinitely during the season. Thousands of testimonials bearing evidence of the great efficiency of this preparation have been received by the manufacturers since its introduction. The remedy is put up for general use under the name of Kellogg's Ant Paste, and can only be obtained at druggists. You will always know the genuine by the patent rattle-cap on the bottle, which should always be looked for, owing to the many imitations now on the market. Housewives and storekeepers should always have a bottle on hand to be ready to ward off the annoying insect; the ant. It can easily be applied by using a little on the end of a match and spread it in cracks or openings at windows and doors, after which the ant makes a hurried departure to places where the magic preparation is not in evidence. It

TIRE TIPS FOR SUMMER TRIPS GIVEN BY LOCAL DISTRIBUTOR

With summer weather and summer touring slipping into high gear, a few suggestions on the care of casings and tubes are not out of place.

Several valuable hints are given out this week by L. J. Barber, local distributor of Norwalk tires and tubes. These are the tips:

Park your car in the shade if possible.

If car is to be left standing in the shade for any length of time it is advisable to cover the casings exposed to the rays of the sun with robes or burlap sacks.

Extra casings should be protected with tire covers, as light tends to deteriorate rubber, particularly on the casings that are not in use.

Examine repaired tubes carefully. See that the patches are in good condition, as the heat is apt to open them and loosen them and cause a slow leak. Temporary patches should be replaced with vulcanized ones.

Carry at least two new tubes when going on a tour, as even the tightest of patches may work loose on repaired tubes when driving over hot roads.

Pack tubes in their boxes snugly but not tightly.

Walnut Growers Meet

walnut industry. The principal message which he brought to the growers was the proper use of irrigating water in the production of walnuts. He strongly advocated fall and winter irrigation as a preventive of winter killing and die-back, which experience has taught is due in a very large measure to lack of soil moisture. He stated the rains of the past winter had penetrated the ground on an average of only two feet. The speaker advocated immediate and rather heavy application of water to all groves at the present time. At the noon recess he made a number of soil moisture tests in the orchard of B. F. Maxson, using a two and one-half inch carpenter's auger welded onto a steel bar. He advised every orchardist to procure one of these tools and make frequent tests of the condition of his soil. Walnut groves should always be moist to a depth of ten feet.

Manager Carlyle Thorpe of the California Walnut Growers' Association made a very interesting talk in the afternoon. He spoke particularly on the marketing problems, reading a number of interesting letters from their eastern representatives, showing the benefits which were accruing to the industry through the advertising plans now being used by the association. The advertising campaign of the past year in the leading periodicals has proved so successful that the directors have decided to adopt it as the general policy of the association. He called attention to the fact that they had received 9000 written answers to one advertisement which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. He made an appeal to the growers to maintain and if possible increase the quality of the "Diamond" brand. William Webber, assistant general manager of the California Walnut Growers' Association, spoke briefly on the splendid results which had been achieved by the association's cracking plant. During the season this plant now employs over 400 women, and it will pay to the growers during the present year over half a million dollars for the nuts.

Farm Advisor Coit of the Los Angeles farm bureau was also present and spoke briefly during the morning session.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To the board of directors and stockholders of La Puente Walnut Growers Association:

Gentlemen: I am pleased to make the following report of your association's business covering 1918-1919 season:

Our stock ledger shows a total of 247 members, with a total average of 5513 acres of producing walnuts.

The association received from growers and shipped in first pool a total of 2,388,651 pounds of walnuts, which were graded into 1,755,070 pounds of No. 1's; 58,422 No. 2's; 20,251 "G. T." budded, and 548,879 "Diamond" budded, for which gross receipts figured $690,972.

Glennings to the extent of $8,534 pounds were also received after the close of the regular season and placed in the second pool, and should bring gross receipts of probably $11,000. There were in addition to the above weights 40 tons of culls shipped to the by-products plant in Los Angeles.

This tonnage ran far in excess of all estimates made by growers and officials and caused our sales manager considerable embarrassment and delay in making final payments.

Full settlement and final statements have been made to growers on first pool. We are advised that sale of walnut meats and second pool goods are progressing in a satisfactory manner, but further returns will probably not be made until these goods are cleaned up and final statements made to growers. As these returns will net the growers far greater amounts than otherwise have been received they should wait patiently for the finals.

The high prices of our goods greatly increased the cost of selling. Operating upon wartime basis demanded the maximum price on labor, bags, bleach, etc., yet the percentage of costs are the lowest we have ever shown, namely: California Walnut Growers Association selling expense, three per cent plus one per cent cash discount; local association, 2 per cent; making the total cost to growers practically 6 per cent. This total includes the charge for sorting out culls at the plant, a great saving to growers in expense and time. The expenses for handling the second pool will probably run higher than 6 per cent.

The culling of all walnuts at the packing house has proved a decided success. Definite prices to be paid for picking by growers as decided at the special meeting last August showed wise judgment and foresight. Besides standardizing wages, it also produced harmony and satisfaction both among pickers and growers by eliminating the practice of growers bidding for each other's pickers.

Material changes in the packing plant must be made before the coming harvest. The most feasible scheme seems to require the expansion of the building over the remaining 75 feet of our property, with basement and storage bins. The rapidly increasing production of budded walnuts demand serious consideration. To keep up with the growth, additional machinery will be required in the plant. Machinery installation might be postponed one or two seasons by employing double shifts with night runs, but your secretary is convinced that two units of machinery should be installed. This would practically result in making two plants under one roof. One unit could be used for budded nuts, thus permitting the delivery of buds daily. During the peak load both units could be adjusted to take care of seedlings until the rush is over. This two-unit plan has further advantages in case of break-downs, where one unit could carry the load while the other was undergoing emergency repairs.

The present indebtedness against the plant is $3,500.

The association books are complete to date. Growers are urged to inspect these records and accounts if in doubt as to tonnage or payments as shown on statements.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT NEELY, Secretary.
